² With regard to the interest rates on newly granted loans / newly received deposits, variable movements are characteristic. Such movements in interest rates stem from changes in the volume of new deposits / loans (which can significantly vary from month to month), as well as from the newly agreed interest rate.

⁵ The interest rate data from August 2020 do not include data on a bank whose founding and operating license was revoked and who went into bankruptcy in August 2020.

1. Corporate interest rates⁶

- This month, the average interest rate on the outstanding amounts of loans granted to the corporate sector decreased by 0.02 percentage points on a monthly basis and equaled 3.71%. The downward change is the result of the reduced interest rates on denar loans without and with currency clause (by 0.04 and 0.01 percentage points, respectively), in circumstances of growth in the interest rates on foreign currency loans (by 0.03 percentage points). On an annual basis, the interest rate on the outstanding amounts of corporate loans decreased by 0.42 percentage points.

- In January, the interest rate on newly granted loans to the corporate sector amounted to 3.60% and registered a monthly increase of 0.18 percentage points. The monthly change is due to the increase in all components: interest rates on foreign currency loans (of 0.56 percentage points) and interest rates on denar loans with and without currency clause (of 0.05 percentage points, respectively). Compared to the same period last year, this interest rate decreased by 0.59 percentage points.

National Bank of the Republic of North Macedonia Statistics Department

- The interest rate on the outstanding amounts of corporate deposits remained unchanged compared to the previous month and amounted to 1.22%. On an annual basis, the interest rate on the outstanding amounts of corporate deposits decreased by 0.26 percentage points.
- In January, the interest rate on newly received corporate deposits⁷ amounted to 0.40% and increased by 0.02 percentage points, on a monthly basis. The growth is completely due to the increased interest rates on denar deposits without currency clause (of 0.18 percentage points), with fall recorded in the interest rates on denar deposits in foreign currency (of 0.94 percentage points) and denar deposits with currency clause (of 0.08 percentage points). Compared to January last year, this interest rate decreased by 0.31 percentage points.

2. Interest rates for households⁸

Source: NBRNM.

- This month, the interest rate on the outstanding amounts of household loans recorded a monthly fall of 0.01 percentage point and equaled 5.45%. According to the currency structure, the monthly fall is explained by the reduction in all components: interest rates on denar loans without and with currency clause (by 0.02 percentage points, respectively) and interest rates on foreign currency loans (by 0.01 percentage point). On an annual basis, the average interest rate on the outstanding amounts of household loans decreased by 0.24 percentage points.

National Bank of the Republic of North Macedonia Statistics Department

- In January, the average interest rate on newly granted household loans amounted to 4.56% and increased by 0.18 percentage points, on a monthly basis. The upward change is a result of the increase in the interest rates on loans without currency clause (of 0.29 percentage points), amid a decline in the interest rates on foreign currency loans (of 0.13 percentage points) and unchanged interest rates on denar loans with currency clause. On an annual basis, the average interest rate on newly granted household loans decreased by 0.35 percentage points.

Source: NBRNM.

- In January, the average interest rate on the outstanding amounts of household deposits equaled 0.89% and registered a monthly fall of 0.03 percentage points. The monthly fall is due to the reduction of the interest rates on denar deposits without currency clause and foreign currency deposits (of 0.03 and 0.01 percentage points, respectively), in circumstances when the interest rate on denar deposits with currency clause registered no changes. The average interest rate on the outstanding amounts of household deposits decreased by 0.28 percentage points, compared to the same period last year.
- In January, the interest rate on newly received household deposits⁹ registered a monthly decrease of 0.19 percentage points and equaled 0.66%. The downward change results from the reduced interest rates on denar deposits without currency clause (by 0.25 percentage points) and the interest rates on foreign currency deposits (by 0.08 percentage points). This month, no newly received denar deposits with currency clause were recorded. On an annual basis, the interest rate on newly received household deposits decreased by 0.41 percentage points.
